VACATION DAYS ARE NEARING CLOSE FOR CITY SCHOOL KIDDIES

City Schools to Open Next Tuesday Morning—School Book Dealers Are Ready With Big Supply—Entrances Examinations on Saturday.

Although the city schools will not be opened for this season until next Tuesday morning, the school term will really begin this evening with the meeting of the City Board of Education at the High School building when all plans will be made for the opening and several other important matters in regard to the schools will come up for discussion.

On Saturday at the High School building there will be two examinations in progress at the same time. The city teachers who do not hold city certificates or credits will be required to take the regular city teachers' examination and those students who are entering the local High School from other schools and who do not have the accredited cards from the other schools, will be required to take the regular entrance examination to determine their ability to enter upon the High School course or to place them in the proper classes.

There will be no school on Monday because it is Labor Day but all of the teachers will meet at the Superintendent's office in the High School Building for the final conference before the opening of school and to receive final instructions from Superintendent Caplinger.

Tuesday morning at the usual hour all of the children will be expected to be in their respective rooms to meet their teachers and be properly assigned to rooms and desks for the term. They will be given their list of books needed and after a conference lasting only a short time, will be dismissed that they may visit the book stores to purchase their needed books. All of the stores have announced ready with a full line of books and supplies needed by the children in all the schools and on Wednesday morning the schools will get down to real classroom work.

FARM BUREAU TREATS COUNTY TEACHERS

The officers of the Mason County Farm Bureau this afternoon sent a freezer of ice cream and a supply of cones to the Third Street M. E. Church as a treat to the Mason County School teachers attending the county institute.

MOVEMENT IS BEGUN TO INCREASE SALARY OF POLICE

Ordinance Committee May Present Bill at Monday Night's Meeting of Council to Make Salary of Patrolmen $100 Per Month.

It has just become known that there is a movement on foot to increase the salary of the patrolmen of the Maysville police force from $75 per month to $100 per month. The movement is receiving the support of several councilmen and it is more than likely that at the regular September meeting of Council on next Monday evening an ordinance making this increase will be presented by the Laws and Ordinance committee.

The movement is not without its opponents and today the question, which has just reached the public, is being generally discussed on the streets and in the homes. It is pointed out by the opponents of the proposed bill that should it pass, the patrolmen would be receiving a larger salary than the chief of police as the salary of the Chief of Police cannot be changed during the present term which will not expire for two years yet, while the increase in the salary of patrolmen would take effect with the first of next year, the patrolmen being elected every year.

Those favoring the bill point out that a man with a family, in face of the present high cost of living, cannot support himself and family on the meager salary of $75 per month.

Should the bill be presented to Council as a whole, it will likely develop much interesting debate in Council.

DUMP AGAIN AFIRE

The city dump on Bridge street broke out in flames again Wednesday night and Thursday morning one of the large Cincinnati fire engines was again used to extinguish the flames. The several streams of water from the big pumping engine were kept playing on the dump for some time to tear it to pieces. It is hoped that this drenching will entirely extinguish the flames.

BABY MYSTERY STILL UNSOLVED

The mystery as to whose baby boy it was that was found on the front porch of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Purdon's home in the East end last week remains still unsolved. The local police have endeavored to find some one who knows something about the basket in which the child was found and the clothing used to wrap it but as yet they have been unable to find anything that might lead to its identity.

MAYOR CALLS ON ALL MAYSVILLIANS TO OBSERVE LABOR DAY

Calling Attention to Congenial Relations For Years Between Capital and Labor in Maysville, Mayor Asks All Citizens to Observe Labor Day.

In support of the plan of Maysville union organizations to make next Monday the biggest Labor Day the city has ever seen, Mayor Thomas M. Russell today issued a proclamation asking all of the citizens of the city to celebrate the day. So far as is known, this is the first time a Mayor of Maysville has issued a Labor Day proclamation.

The big celebration Monday promises to eclipse anything that has ever been undertaken by organized labor in Maysville and a general celebration of the day is expected.

Mayor Russell's proclamation follows:

A PROCLAMATION
Labor is the bulwark of our nation. Upon labor depends the progress of the times.

Maysville has always been a laboring community but within the past two years the labor of Maysville has been coming into its own through organization by means of which the laboring men have been able to better their own conditions and at the same time render better and more satisfactory service to their employers.

Maysville is now blessed with several strong labor organizations, all of which are doing their part in helping to improve the city in every possible manner. They have been great benefactors to the city and have been the least friction, so cordial are the relations between capital and labor in Maysville.

Monday, September 1st, has been set apart by Hon. Woodrow Wilson, president of our great nation, and Hon. J. D. Black, Chief Executive of our grand old Commonwealth, as Labor's own day.

Therefore, I, Thomas M. Russell, Mayor of the City of Maysville, Kentucky, call upon all Maysvillians to celebrate Monday, September 1, 1919, as a holiday to Labor and in honor of the honest and stalwart laboring men of our city, state and nation.

Witness my hand and the seal of the City of Maysville, Kentucky, this August 28th, 1919.

THOMAS M. RUSSELL, Mayor
Attest: City of Maysville, Ky.
R. B. ADAIR, City Clerk.

INFIRMARY GROUNDS CHOSEN AS CAMP SITE FOR U. S. SOLDIERS

Platoon of Soldiers Will Arrive in Maysville Sunday Afternoon and Remain Here Greater Part of Next Week—Daily Demonstrations.

Officers of this platoon of United States Artillerymen who are now at the Germantown Fair grounds, were in Maysville today looking over prospective camp sites for the location of their camp while they are in this city during the greater part of next week. After looking over several proposed sites, the officers finally decided upon the County Infirmary grounds and arrangements are now being made for the company to make their camp there Sunday afternoon.

The contingent of men and animals will arrive in Maysville about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon and go at once to the infirmary to make camp. The camp will be open to visitors every day during their stay here and especially are young men interested in the army invited to visit the camp.

The men, who number 50, are in charge of seven officers and carry with them 60 horses and mules as well as two large 75—field pieces which have been adopted by the American Army as the best light field weapon. They are an improvement on the German 75s, the French 75s and the British 75s and these field pieces will be fired in drills during the stay here. The whole battery is in charge of Captain John Townsend, Jr., of Camp Knox, from where all the soldiers are coming.

Accompanying the battery is a Medical detachment in charge of Captain Byers while the soldiers are under the direct command of Lieut. Caruthers, of the 83rd Field Artillery.

The big guns will be fired and the artillerymen will drill at the infirmary grounds on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday of next week and a recruiting office will be opened Monday at the Maysville Chamber of Commerce building where all interested young men will be given such information as they might want.

HOG AND BEEF PRICES TAKE SUDDEN PLUNGE

Public Cuts Purchases and Drings Down Meat Prices—Speculators Are Hard Hit.

Chicago, August 28.—A drop of $1 a hundred pounds on the average for hogs with lower prices for beef cattle at the stockyards Wednesday was ascribed to several reasons, including the general protest against the high cost of living. Market men said the tendency was for still lower hog prices particularly after the fall marketing, and they professed to see a break in high living costs.

The public has curtailed its buying of pork and beef recently, while live stock receipts are large. This eastern market failed to act as an emergency outlet and the packers virtually withdrew their buyers from the pens today, leaving thousands of hogs and cattle without buyers. Speculators were hit hard.

Livestock men say export business has been depressed by the foreign exchange situation and that this, coupled with receipt of hogs that accumulated on farms during the railroad shopmen's strike and the prospect of a strong run of hogs, helped to cause the weak market.

While the average drop for hogs was at $1, the difference between today's lowest point and yesterday's high point was fully $1.50, livestock authorities said, while the average drop for beef cattle today ranged from 50 to 75 cents a hundred pounds. Sheep also sold lower.

LOCAL "Y" MAN PASSES THROUGH ON C. & O.

Mr. E. E. Clark, Maysville man who has been in the railroad Y. M. C. A. service since the beginning of the war, passed through Maysville on C. & O. No. 4 Wednesday evening and met several friends at the local station. Mr. Clark was returning to New York City after having delivered a train load of troops to a Western cantonment.

MAYSLEICK PASTOR RESIGNS

Rev. T. F. Smith, pastor of the Mayslick Baptist Church, has resigned the pastorate of that church to accept the pastorate of a church near Louisville. Besides having charge of this church, he will attend the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville this season.

Mr. George Shipley, who is spending the summer in the country with relatives, spent today with his family here.

PRESIDENT WILL NOT SPEAK AT MAYSVILLE IN TOUR OF NATION

Cincinnati Is Not Included in President Wilson's Itinerary and Therefore the People of Maysville Will Not Hear Him Unless Plans are Changed.

Washington, August 28.—President Wilson will leave Washington next Wednesday on his speech-making tour in the interest of the peace treaty, and will deliver his first address in Columbus, Ohio, next Thursday, probably in the evening.

Cincinnati is not included in the itinerary, but Secretary Tumulty announced this President would speak at Indianapolis.

Accompanying the President will be Mrs. Wilson, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Secretary Tumulty, and a corps of secretaries and stenographers.

This means that the people of Maysville will not hear the nation's Chief Executive as had been expected. Every possible effort had been made to have the President speak at Maysville if he opened his nation-wide campaign in favor of the League of Nations at Cincinnati. Had the speaking tour opened at Cincinnati, the President would probably have traveled from Washington over the C. & O. and he had been asked by the Maysville Chamber of Commerce as well as by Congressman Fields and Senator Stanley, to speak if for only a few moments at the Maysville C. & O. station.

A letter from Secretary Tumulty some several weeks ago said he had brought the matter to the President's attention and that Maysville would be considered in making up the itinerary.

WINTER FALLS FROM HIGH STEP LADDER

Mr. Lee Hauke, well known local sign writer, received a rather serious fall on Court street this afternoon when a step ladder on which he was working in front of the law office of Attorney A. D. Cole, broke and let him all to the sidewalk. No bones were broken but Mr. Hauke was rather badly shaken and was quite sick for some little time.

The little son of Prof. and Mrs. C. S. Hale stepped in front of an automobile near their home in West Second street yesterday afternoon and the machine ran against him but he was not the least bit injured.

NATIONAL GAMES

In spite of the serious attempts that have been made to introduce American baseball with all its attendant excitement and thrills into European countries, only partial success has been achieved. The English have shown a genuine interest in the game. The French have not. They simply do not care for it at all.

A similar difference is said to have been observed in the forms of relaxation indulged in by English, American and French soldiers behind the lines during the war. The former sought active, strenuous exercise as a rule. The joulu preferred smoking, reading or day-dreaming.

The play-of any people or nation, says J. R. Hildebrand, writing on the "Geography of Games," in a current magazine, is a key to the geography, history and racial characteristics of that people.

He suggests that the English, being phlegmatic about their business, turn to the active sports for recreation. The French, more animated in their daily routine, seek reposeful recreation. Just how the American games are explained by this method is not clear.

It is a true and interesting fact, nevertheless, that all peoples and races to play. Our ancient histories tell us that Greeks, Romans, Persians, Phoenicians, all had their athletic sports and competitive games. Many of our modern games may be traced to an origin in the games of many centuries ago, and they have their counterparts in games played by savages today. Geographically, of course, snow, mountains, plains, rivers and the sea itself have all influenced the plays of the people. And although there are many games in common, there are also games which seem particularly adapted to individual nations and peoples and to the state of development of their civilization. If the French did take up baseball they would refine it and alter it until the most enthusiastic American "fan" would fail to recognize it.

OUR DEAD IN FRANCE

Although no final action seems yet to have been taken in the matter, the decision probably will be to leave our soldier dead abroad and permanently improve and beautify the American cemeteries in Europe. Practically every one who has given the matter serious consideration believes this to be the right way.

There are sentimental reasons for this action as well as practical ones. In a cablegram to the War Department, Gen. Pershing said: "The graves of our soldiers constitute, if they are allowed to remain, a perpetual reminder to our Allies of the liberty and ideals upon which the greatness of America rests. . . I recommend that none of our dead be removed from Europe unless their nearest relatives so demand after a full understanding of all the sentimental reasons against such a removal."

"I believe that, could these soldiers speak for themselves, they would wish to be left undisturbed where, with their comrades, they fought the last fight."

General Pershing, himself a soldier, probably knows what he says. The brave boys who died "over there" are held as dearly in the hearts of Americans as they could possibly be if buried here. Their memory is as glorious in either case. The more one thinks about it, the more fitting it appears that they should be allowed to rest where they fought their last fight. Their graves will be a lasting pledge of American idealism, courage and good faith.

WHAT IS A FAIR PROFIT?

An amendment to the food control act now pending in Congress provides a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for two years, or both, for the making of "unjust and unreasonable prices."

This is good as far as it goes. But what are "unjust and unreasonable prices?" The act in question does not appear to furnish any criterion.

The question as to what is a just and reasonable profit will receive an astonishing variety of answers if put to the business men who make prices. There will be another set of answers, much lower on the whole, from consumers. Estimates will vary, too, in different sections. How is a judge or jury going to decide?

Manifestly, there is needed some authoritative standard of profits. Neither Congress nor the Department of Justice nor any of the other bodies, public and private, that are dealing with the cost of living will be able to accomplish much of practical and permanent value until this fundamental point is determined.

What is a fair percentage of profit, in the general run of production and trade, and what variations if any must be allowed in the different industries and businesses? Let Congress wrestle with that problem.

She public expects its government to do something more effective than merely to "investigate" the high cost of living.—Indianapolis News.

"NO SOFT COAL PRICE COMBINE," SAYS WITNESS

J. D. A. Morrow Tells Senate Committee Such a Combination Would Be Impossible

QUOTE PRICES AT MINES LOWER THAN LAST YEAR

Better Grades of Coal Have Advanced But Lower Grades Declined, Making Average of All Grades Less.

Washington (Special).—A combination among bituminous coal operators to maintain or fix prices does not exist and would be impossible if attempted, J. D. A. Morrow, Vice President of the National Coal Association, told the Senate subcommittee in its first day's inquiry here into the coal situation. Prices at the mines, Mr. Morrow added, have declined under the competition which prevails and are lower now than they were a year ago.

"There are about 5,000 separate commercial producers operating approximately 7,000 mines, from which bituminous coal is regularly shipped," Mr. Morrow said. "In addition there are some 2,000 operators with about 3,000 mines, who begin producing and selling coal whenever the price goes up a little and offers a profit to them. Thus in 1917 coal production was reported to the United States Geological Survey from 10,034 mines. Moreover, there are hundreds of thousands of acres of coal lands along railroads on which new mines can be readily and quickly opened by any one so disposed."

"Such a condition obviously does not lend itself to restrictive combinations among producers. In addition the operators of each mining field are subject to competition from the producers of other fields, so that buyers have many different sources of supply available to them."

"Anyone who alleges that there is a nation-wide combination among bituminous coal producers when these are the conditions of bituminous coal production and distribution, merely advertises his own ignorance, or commits himself to deliberate and vicious misstatements."

"Of the 5,000 separate bituminous coal producers in the United States, 2,234, approximately 45 per cent, hold membership in the National Coal Association. They produce about sixty per cent of the total output of bituminous in the country."

"Charges that the National Coal Association is a combination to maintain prices are without foundation in facts. They doubtless proceed simply from ignorance of the purpose and activities. The National Coal Association neither buys nor sells coal; neither does it have anything whatever to do with the prices which its members ask or sell at, nor with the territory into which they ship their coal, nor the quantity which they produce."

Mr. Morrow stated that bituminous coal prices have declined since the armistice, and in general are lower than the prices fixed by the United States Fuel Administration. He submitted charts to the committee graphically showing the prices which bituminous coal sold at the mines in different districts of the United States from April 1 to August 1, 1919. In connection with these charts Mr. Morrow explained that when the price restrictions of the Fuel Administration were removed on February 1 last, the better, more desirable coals went to a premium in the open competitive market and the less desirable coals declined in price. This was the action to be expected, he said, in a market where the buyer exercises his choice and can obtain the kind he prefers. As a result, instead of the uniform prices in different districts, which were fixed by the United States Fuel Administration, prices promptly spread out, some coal going higher and some lower than they had been.

"Meantime," Mr. Morrow said, "the cost of producing bituminous coal is higher now than it was a year ago, due to the fact that the mines that were operating six days a week and in many cases now are operating only four days per week, and in some cases only three days per week. The overhead expense of maintaining mines goes on just the same whether coal is produced or not. These idle day expenses have resulted in increased costs per ton, as compared with last year. When these increased costs are considered in connection with the general decrease in prices, it is clear that profits of bituminous coal operators are materially less than a year ago."

Referring to statements by Representative Huddleston of Alabama, Director General Hines of the Railroad Administration and others, to the effect that bituminous coal prices at the mines are unduly high, Mr. Morrow said: "I wish to deny publicly and emphatically these statements. Bituminous coal prices are being maintained in some improper manner and are unduly high. I am convinced that these statements proceed simply from a lack of understanding of the facts."

Mr. Morrow drew comparisons between the prices of bituminous coals at the mines in the United States and foreign countries.

"Prices at the mines in Great Britain," he said, "are about three times the mine prices prevalent in the United States; in France the mine prices are more than three and a half times those of the United States. English mine prices range from $6.94 to $7.14 per ton, while bituminous coal in France is costing about $5.76 per ton at the mines. The average mine price of bituminous coal sold in the United States is in the neighborhood of $2.40 per ton."

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royce City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better."

That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.

BURGLAR AT MT. STERLING; TRAILED BY BLOODHOUNDS

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—The hardware firm of Chensuit & O'Hear was robbed. The thieves entered from an upstairs window breaking open with an ax, the wooden door on the stairs. Knives and watches valued at three hundred dollars were stolen. When the robbery was discovered Chief Tipton wired for Captain V. D. Mullikin, who came on the noon train with his bloodhounds. The dogs took the trail out at the rear of the store leading to a point on the railroad near the Camargo pike where it was lost. It is believed that the thieves boarded a freight at this point or had an automobile in waiting.

FOUR TRAINS DROPPED

AUTOS MUST DETOUR

Frankfort, Ky.—The Versailles and Lexington pike will be closed to traffic from the Midway pike to McKee's cross roads until the work of oiling is completed. The road was closed Monday by the Woodford county road engineer.

Do You Know Your Own Business?

If you own shares in a business do you want a Government employe to tell your executives how to run your business.

If you are a loyal employe, do you want a political appointee to have the power to injure your concern by hampering its operations or by interfering with its efficiency?

Perhaps you have noticed the effect of Government control on the railroads, telegraph, and telephone.

Bills have been introduced to license and regulate the packing industry—perhaps your business will be next.

You would probably dislike to have this happen to your business even more than you would dislike to have your daily supply of meat interfered with.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE FOR REUNION OF VETS

Confederate Veterans Promised One Big Time at Atlanta at Big Reunion in October.

Atlanta, Ga., August 27.—The old-fashioned polka and the modern "shimmy" will compete in the popular favor in Atlanta in the month of October, when the twentieth reunion of the United Confederate Veterans is held here.

Both dances have been given a place on the program for the two big balls that will be brilliant features of the reunion, which is expected to assemble more than 100,000 people from all parts of the south.

The "shimmy" and the "jazz," after some discussion, were included in the ball numbers because of the fact that the reunion will be attended by thousands of young people, Sons of Confederate Veterans, maids, sponsors, and others, who will accompany their daddies and their grand-daddies to Atlanta.

As for the polka, it was placed on the program at the demand of the veterans themselves, together with the mazurka, the minuet and other dances which were favorites with these old men when, the chivalry and youth of this south, they went forth to battle with Lee and Jackson more than fifty years ago.

There was some talk in Atlanta for a while of giving the veterans "seats of honor" on the platform when the reunion was held. But this was quickly squelched.

"Not on your life," said General N. B. Forrest, son of the famous Confederate cavalry leader and reunion general secretary, who has been attending these events for the past fifteen years. "You won't be able to hold these old boys on the platform when the band begins to play. They'll be right there on the floor, and some of these young chaps had better look out, too, for they can 'cut a step' along with the best."

The balls will be but two of several brilliant functions planned for the reunion. The people of Atlanta have subscribed more than $50,000 to finance the reunion, and much of this sum will be expended for the social affairs that will be such attractive features of the four days.

Atlanta is preparing to entertain the veterans and other guests in royal fashion. The fact that the railroads are giving a rate of one cent a mile to the reunion from any part of the United States, insures a record-breaking attendance, and Atlanta's people are leaving no stone unturned to receive all visitors hospitably and take good care of them while they are in the city.

DIED OF GRIEF, AND BURIED WITH SISTER

London, Ky. — The sorrow of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Asher was shared by the entire community when it became known that their daughter, Mrs. Osa Revel Kirk, who had come to London to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Lottie Silvers, had been found dead at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theo S. Mory. She had died of heart failure, caused by her nervous condition and grief over the death of her sister. The funeral of Mrs. Silvers, was postponed and services for the two sisters were held at the Christian church.

TO AID MENTALLY WEAK

Washington, August 27.—Each public school in the country will have a division for the investigation of mentally handicapped children, if a bill introduced by Representative Leonidas C. Dyer, Republican, of Missouri, is enacted into law.

The bill provides that the Bureau of Education shall establish means for the study of the mental and educational needs of backward, feeble-minded and otherwise mentally deficient children.

This work is to include the collection, tabulation, interpretation and publication of the results of tests useful for mental and educational classification and of information bearing upon organization and conduct of the work undertaken in the schools of the country and elsewhere for the pupils; also the conduct of a laboratory of mental tests for the development of standards of mental capacity for normal children of different ages; also the conduct of a psycho-educational clinic for the examination and classification of pupils.

This bill provides for the appointment of a director of the bureau and an appropriation of $30,000 annually for its maintenance.

TEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT AVAILABLE IN SODA WATER TRADE

"There is a demand for ex-service men in the bottled soda water trade during the summer months," it is announced today by the War Department, through Col. Arthur Woods, Assistant to the Secretary of War, in charge of this work of obtaining re-employment for discharged service men. "The possibilities of employment at this time of the year are good for anyone who can do the work required."

"There is also a great demand for skilled lithographers throughout the entire country. Every lithographer who went to France will probably be immediately re-employed upon his being mustered out of the service, but on account of the fact that few apprentices have been graduated in the lithographing trade during the past four years there is also room for a great many men who are ambitious to learn this interesting and profitable work."

CARELESS MOTHERS BLAMED

Somerset, Ky.—After a hearing in juvenile court, Judge Tartar sentenced Leslie Cook, a fifteen year old girl to the Reform school until she becomes 21 years of age. Deputy Sheriff E. W. Thurman at once took her to Greendale. In passing sentence on Judge Tartar said: "Mothers are getting careless about their young daughters, and if they do not get more concerned the court will have to take a hand in the matter. Many young girls of tender ages are permitted to ride about at night in automobiles with men much older than themselves and they frequently go to the river at night without chaperones."

STATE PROVIDES FREE EDUCATION FOR SIGHTLESS

Movement Started to Bring Every Available Child Into Kentucky School For the Blind—No Cost is Attached.

In line with other progressive States Kentucky is doing its part for the education and industrial improvement of its sightless children, and maintains at public expense the Kentucky School for the Blind, at Louisville, which ranks among the best of such institutions in this country and is recognized the world over for the high standard it has attained for over three-quarters of a century of its existence, it being a pioneer in the work of educating the blind.

Strange as it may appear, that although the State has provided so liberally for their education without cost in an institution of such excellence, conducted by an efficient corps of teachers and equipped with every appliance for the work, a problem that has always been confronted has been the fact that only about half of the blind children in Kentucky are taking advantage of the great opportunity afforded them to receive a splendid education and become self-sustaining. It is to meet these conditions, that the press and public are urged to co-operate in a movement to bring into the school for the coming session the full quota of blind children.

The Kentucky School for the Blind is not to be confronted with an asylum or hospital for the treatment of defective eyes, it being in the strictest sense a public school for those denied attendance at the ordinary schools. From the kindergarten to the graduating class, the same high educational standard prevails, and in addition, the boys are taught several lines of industrial work, and the girls, domestic science and needlework, in which amazing progress has been made by the pupils.

Every blind child in Kentucky, or any child whose sight is so weak as to prevent it from attending an ordinary school, can get a free education at the Kentucky School for the Blind.

The school session is from the second Wednesday of September to the second Wednesday of June, and the children all go to their homes for the summer vacation.

There are separate schools for the white children and for the colored children, some distances apart, each with its own set of teachers. The State has endeavored to make these schools everything they should be for the education, health and comfort of the blind children of Kentucky. The buildings are large and beautifully situated are large and beautifully situated.

"WATCH ON THE RHINE" STOPPED BY LEGION

Frankfort, Ky.—No longer will the strains of "The Watch on the Rhine" issue forth from an electric piano in a local ice cream parlor where for just a jiffy it has been grinding out the German music to surprised Americans who visited the place unaware of the brand of music furnished by the instrument. The piece has been removed and more appropriate music has been substituted in lieu thereof. The change was made at the suggestion of the Frankfort Post of the American Legion. The proprietor of the stand said that the particular music roll which included "The Watch on the Rhine" had come with the piano before the war and that this piece had to take the turn with the others whenever the piano was played.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE IN SUIT BETWEEN UNDERTAKERS

The Bracken Chronicle says: The jury failed to agree in the damage suit of Corlis & Thompson, Brooksville undertakers, against Pumpelly and Steen, Augusta undertakers, the jury standing seven for awarding a small amount of damages and five against.

This suit grew out of the burial of Mark Day, who died in a Cincinnati hospital in August, 1917, and through some misunderstanding at the hospital the body was turned over to Mr. Corlis for burial, after which it was alleged that some charges were made against the Brooksville undertakers that were detrimental to them, hence the suit for damages. This suit was for $10,000, and we are informed that there are two other suits pending, but we have been unable to learn whether or not they will be brought to trial.

MASON COUNTY MEN ARE CHOSEN OFFICERS OF MORGAN'S MEN

Mr. W. H. Robb Re-elected First Vice President of Association and Mr. Walter Matthews Is Member Of Executive Committee.

Olympian Springs, August 28.—Morgan's Men Wednesday re-elected three vice presidents of the association and the executive committee. The president, Steve G. Sharp, of Covington, and Secretary Horace Taylor, of Carlisle, hold office for life. The vice presidents are W. H. Robb, Helena Station; W. J. Stone, Kuttawa, and Ellery Blackburn, Georgetown.

Members of the executive committee are George B. Taylor, Nicholasville; A. W. Macklin, Frankfort; Walter Matthews, Maysville; C. A. Meng, North Middletown, and M. A. Haggard, Georgetown.

Dr. Henry Hunt Duke, of Louisville, son of the late General Basil Duke, commander and president of Morgan's Men, who married General Morgan's sister, spoke to the veterans at their request yesterday morning. He said that he attended the reunion in respect to the memory of his father, who would want him to be present. Doctor Duke was in France ten months and in action six months. He was in the Argonne Forest with engineering troops and an evacuation hospital, and was behind the lines the greater part of the time, he said.

"None but American troops could have taken the Argonne Forest," said Doctor Duke. "The French tried four years and Pershing's men did it in almost as many weeks."

President Sharp asked all members of the command who were in or near Greenville, Tenn., when General Morgan was killed there to give their version of the events of the day. Judge J. W. Perry, of West Liberty, gave a graphic account of the death of his gallant commander, which brought tears to the eyes of many of his comrades. C. A. Lee, Jr., of Falmouth, chaplain of the command, also spoke of the last few hours of Morgan's life.

The surrender of less than two hundred of Morgan's Men at the end of the twenty-sixth day raid into Ohio and Indiana was described by Andrew Broadus, of Louisville, and President Steve G. Sharp. The cavalrymen were not out of their saddles for twenty-six days and nights, taking their little sleep while riding, and less than two hundred of the 1,800 or 2,000 men who crossed the Ohio surrendered, they said. The others were captured at Bullington's Island, lost their mounts and came home on foot, or were on detached duty.

Mr. Martin said that there were about fifteen men under sixteen years of age in Morgan's command alone and hundreds in the Confederate Army. He ran off to join the army when thirteen years old, failed, and joined Bragg the next year, serving until the end of the war, when he was seventeen. The oldest living member of the association, John Douglas, of Lexington, is eighty-five years old.

Dr. T. J. Robb, Helena Station; Calvert and Walter Meng, of North Middletown, all sons of Morgan's Men, were made honorary members of the association.

Additional registrants on Wednesday were A. A. Ramey, Mt. Sterling, 5th Kentucky Cavalry; D. S. Nixon, Mt. Sterling, 2nd Cavalry; B. W. Nixon, Owensville, 2nd Cavalry; G. T. Bradley, Winchester, 9th Cavalry; W. M. Hart, Owensville, 2nd Cavalry; T. N. Lashbrook, Maysville, 9th Cavalry; Dan Perrine, Maysville, 7th Cavalry; and Judge John A. Daugherty, Owensville, 9th Cavalry.

INSTITUTE PROVING ONE OF THE BEST IN MANY YEARS

Mason County School Teachers Are Getting Much Good From Week's Meeting—Instructors Are Good.

(By R. Y. Maxey)
Institute Stampedes

The most sensational question asked the Institute was that put by Miss Ella Wallace Wednesday afternoon when she suddenly appeared at the door and asked "Is there a minister present?" Tense silence fell upon the institute, but was quickly broken when a reporter advised calling a squirrel. Immediately the thought that a wedding was about to take place broke upon the body and the lady teachers instantly stampeded.

Supt. Turnipseed was crossing the street from his office to the institute and demanded the cause of the excitement but he was brushed out of the way by the mad rush toward the County Teachers' office.

Prof. Dave Hopkins, Principal Sardis High School, in the subject, Play for Farm Children, Why and How Can the School Supply It, said the old and young could be interested in the school work through play, that both old and young would engage in play directed by their teacher. The speaker urged the organization of an association to direct athletics and games of the schools of the county.

Thursday morning's session of the Teachers' Institute was begun by a few well chosen and forceful spoken words by Prof. T. J. Carrey, who led the devotional exercises.

Instructor Ireland spoke to the point on his subject, History from the Teachers' Point of View. The speaker said that history from the view point of most teachers is merely an accumulation of dry facts. But history is really a story of the growth of civilization. History properly handled from this point of view will awaken real interest in its teaching and study. This pledge of allegiance to the American flag was not known by even many teachers before the great war much less the pupils. Now most all know it.

To interest pupils in history the teacher should work through current events.

Supt. Ireland then introduced Mr. Sings, of Lexington, Ky., representative Rand McNally Puh. Co., who said the purpose of teaching history in grades is to lay a foundation upon which the pupils build after they go out of school. History and geography are life long studies.

Supt. S. L. Turnipseed of Lancaster, Ohio, presented his subjects, "Arithmetic in the Common Schools" and essentials and non-essentials of Arithmetic, both in the one address in order to save time.

"We teach too much arithmetic!" Must know first the child, then know your subject to teach arithmetic successfully.

Teach child to observe accurately given but few numbers to the two periods of school life, for it is in these departments he must get a sure foundation. Vitalization of arithmetic will arouse interest in the work.

Supt. Turnipseed insisted on constant drill as necessary to effective teaching of arithmetic.

Miss Casey insisted upon thorough cleaning of the school houses, as the first thing to do.

The second every teacher should be in the best of physical condition, then the carrying out of the rules carefully.

Dr. Rice, County Health Officer, in his talk before the Institute said that health work was sweeping over the state by leaps and bounds, that Mason county stands above every other county in the state in its health work, which is due to the efficient co-operation of all forces controlling disease.

Dr. Rice offers his services to teachers and desires to help in perfecting sanitary conditions in every school.

Dr. Locke, former Mason County Health Officer, now connected with the State Tuberculosis Society, emphasized the fact that the teacher would be the leader in their respective districts for the months that they are teaching in those districts. Dr. Locke also urged efficiency on the part of teachers as a means of getting better salaries. He also urged immediate vaccination against typhoid fever, influenza. Much of Dr. Locke's address dealt with the dread disease, consumption.

Dr. Locke's address was a most interesting and helpful appeal for the betterment of health conditions in the county.

Afternoon Session

Supt. Caplinger in his forceful manner showed how thrift should be taught in the public schools. Thrift, he said, is a fundamental factor in success in life. Teachers should not whisper, but lay hold of their talks with a zeal. It's a God given privilege to teach thrift, because it is just as essential as truth and honesty.

R. R. CAR SHORTAGE IS AGAIN IN PROSPECT

U. S. Railroad Administration Officials Fear Another Serious Car Shortage For Coming Winter.

The following statement was authorized today by the Regional Director's office, Southern Region, United States Railroad Administration:

"Another shortage of freight cars is in prospect for the coming fall and winter. Instead of the surplus of equipment to be found on nearly all railroads during the dull days before the after-the-war business revival set in, every piece of equipment now is in use on many lines and only the most careful handling by the railroads with consistent and whole-hearted co-operation from the shipping public can prevent serious interference with business.

"Federal Managers have been called upon by the Railroad Administration to utilize equipment in the fullest possible extent, and particularly to see that cars are set in motion promptly upon being loaded or unloaded.

"Shippers are asked to lend a hand body by redneering detention of cars to a minimum and by careful and heavy loading so that the greatest possible service may be had from each car. From a purely selfish business standpoint, of course, it is to the interest of the individual shipper and receiver of freight to do his part toward minimizing the effects of a car shortage from which he will suffer along with the public generally."

Mr. Harry Robinson, local Western Union Telegraph operator, succeeds Mr. John Armstrong, resigned, as local representative of the Weather Bureau.

Mr. R. J. Morgan of the Agricultural Department of State University, made a most urgent call for interest and activity in boys and girls agricultural clubs throughout the county.

Mr. Ireland followed this wholesome appeal by one of his best solos of the week, after which he delivered a well directed address in behalf of the Illiteracy Campaign. The speaker followed three lines of thought. First, wiping out of illiteracy; second, increasing attendance; and third, increasing salaries of teachers.

There are more than two thousand illiterates in sight of the dome of the capitol of our state.

"Each for all and all for each" should be the motto of all workers.

Supt. Ireland proved himself one of the most interesting and helpful institute instructors. It has been Mason county teachers' privilege to hear.

Supt. George H. Turnipseed is to be congratulated on securing the services of such educators as Supts. Ireland and S. L. Turnipseed.

82 YEAR OLD BROWN COUNTY MAN TO WED

The Cincinnati Enquirer says: Sweethearts 50 years ago, Robert D. Rice, 82 years old, Hammersville, Ohio, and Mrs. Mary T. Elliott, 72 years old, 3635 Wabash avenue, were granted a marriage license yesterday. Rice is a widower and Mrs. Elliott a widow.

The pair told Marriage License Clerk Jacob Falk that Elliott and Rice both had called on Mrs. Elliott whose maiden name was Smitson, 50 years ago.

Several weeks ago Rice renewed the courtship of his boyhood and eventually proposed and was accepted by Mrs. Elliott. The pair told officials of Probate Court they would engage the first Baptist Minister they found to tie the nuptial knot.

COOL WAVE OVER COUNTRY WILL PASS AWAY SOON

Washington, August 27.—The cool wave extending over the country east of the Mississippi River and which is almost unprecedented for this time of the year, probably will continue for a day or two, it was said today at the Weather Bureau. It results from high pressure over the Plains States.

Richmond, Va., reported a minimum temperature of 54 degrees today, one degree below the previous low record for August in that city.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS MEETING TODAY

Frankfort, Ky., August 28.—The State Election Commission will meet here today to select county election commissioners. Certificates of nomination will be issued to successful candidates in the August primary who have filed their past-election expense accounts.

The post-election expense account of Governor Black was filed yesterday with Secretary of State Lewis and the Clerk of the State Election Commission.

The Ohio Supreme Court has held that county prosecutors can seize and sell food products kept in cold storage longer than allowed under the law.
